FOREWORD

I AM pleased to accede to the request of the Publisher for a few lines to preface "SOUTH AFRICA v. ENGLAND AND AUSTRALIA TEST CRICKET." The proofs appear to provide very clear and, I hope, very accurate records of these matches, and I am wholeheartedly in favour of their publication. To my mind it is a very satisfactory sign of the times to find such a large section of the Public, both men and women, taking an intelligent interest in cricket, with which pastime I have been closely associated since 1880, when I was selected to play in the First XI at Beaumont College, followed in 1888 by election to play for my County.

On looking through the following pages I came across the names of many old friends with whom I have spent happy hours both on and off the field, and I am glad to recommend the work to those who like myself cannot be too often reminded of such pleasant memories.

To the Author I render my congratulations on his zeal in compiling these records. To my friend the Publisher I offer my best wishes for the success of the book, which serves as a companion to his earlier publication, " TEST CRICKET ENGLAND v. AUSTRALIA," a volume which has often served me as a really useful book of reference.

In conclusion let me avail myself of this opportunity of asking the legion of cricket lovers to refrain from advocating any of the drastic changes in the game about which we have recently heard so much. Although I am in favour of a regulation limiting the weight of the roller, I feel confident that in due course the trial of Bat versus Ball will become more equalised, as in former days.

(Signed) CHAS. EDMUND DE TRAFFORD

Theddingworth,

PREFACE

For many years I have been interested in International Cricket and for some time I have amused myself by collecting from various sources the scores of all Test Matches and compiling various statistics.

The publication of Mr. Sparks' valuable book on Anglo-Australian Test Cricket 1877-1925 brought to my notice that there existed no work of reference dealing with South African matches. I set to work at once to compile a companion on those excellent lines, and this small volume is the result.

There are those who have little use for statistics and similar compilations, and yet again there are many like myself who, when the winter puts an end to the war of leather and willow, draw forth a treasured hoard of score-cards and live over again the incidents of which the scores are but the bare authentic records. Once again we see the dashing Hutchings or the elegant Spooner, or call back to mind Sidney Barnes taking wickets as if there were no batsman, or the guile of Colin Blythe compelling his opponents to get themselves out. For such as these this book has been written, and if it stirs their minds to memories of that thrilling finish on the Wanderers' Ground in January 1906, or to that other, seventeen years later at Cape Town, it will have fulfilled its purpose.

My thanks are due to the Publishers for their unfailing courtesy, to Mr. C. Edmund de Trafford for a Foreword, and to Mr. W. H. Sparks for correcting errors in the manuscript; also to the compilers of various handbooks on the game, too numerous to mention, from which the facts have been drawn and my information verified.

SOUTH AFRICA v. ENGLAND

PART I

THE ENGLISH TOUR IN SOUTH AFRICA OF 1888-89

CAPTAIN—C. A. SMITH

2 MATCHES

England won both games

England won both matches played during this tour very easily. In the first match the bowling of C. A. Smith was too much for the South Africans, ably supported by J. Briggs. Between them they took 13 wickets.

The second match was an even more striking triumph, Abel obtaining 120, and Briggs taking 15 wickets for 28 runs—7 for 17 and 8 for 11.

Of the South Africans, W. H. Ashley did best with the ball—7 wickets for 95 runs—and A. B. Tancred averaged 29.00 runs for 4 innings.

For England R. Abel and J. Briggs stood out, the former scoring 189 runs with an average of 94.50, and the latter taking 21 wickets for 4.80 runs apiece.

THE ENGLISH TOUR IN SOUTH AFRICA OF 1891-92

Captain—W. W. READ

England won the only match played

England won the only match played during this tour. Owing to the weakness of the South African eleven, England gained an overwhelming win by an innings and 189 runs. H. Wood scored 134 not out, and with J. T. Hearne added 71 for the ninth wicket, a record during this series of matches.

J. J. Ferris took 13 wickets for 91 runs—6 for 54 and 7 for 37—bowling unchanged throughout the match, and with Martin through South Africa's second innings. The top scorer for South Africa was F. Hearne (24 and 23). Their bowling was severely punished.

THE ENGLISH TOUR IN SOUTH AFRICA OF 1895-96

Captain—LORD HAWKE

3 MATCHES

England won all 3 games

England won each of the three games played during this tour very easily, the first by 288 runs and the other two by an innings.

In the first match England owed their victory to the bowling of Lohmann, whose analysis in the second innings was extraordinary. He took in all 15 wickets for 45 runs (7 for 38 and 8 for 7). South Africa were dismissed for 30 runs, the lowest total in these matches. In the second match England were successful by an innings and 197 runs, putting up the highest total (482) until 1924. Hayward made 122, and Fry, Hill, Heseltine and Bromley-Davenport batted well. In the first innings Lohmann took 9 wickets for 28 runs. H. R. Bromley-Davenport and C. W. Wright set up an 8th wicket record of 154. England won the last match by an innings and 33 runs, after putting South Africa in. Lohmann took 7 wickets and A. J. L. Hill scored 124, and he, in the second innings, took 4 wickets for 8 runs in 8 overs.

G. A. Lohmann took 35 wickets for England for 5.80 apiece, and A. J. L. Hill scored 251 runs at an average of 62.75. For South Africa J. Middleton took 12 wickets for 15 runs each, and E. A. Halliwell scored 104 runs—average 17.33.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN TOUR IN ENGLAND OF 1907

CAPTAIN—P. W. SHERWELL

3 MATCHES

England won 1 and 2 were drawn

In 1907 England won the only match finished by a narrow margin, but the honours remained even.

In the first match South Africa needed 103 runs to avoid an innings defeat with 7 wickets to fall. England made 428, G. L. Jessop making 93, and L. C. Braund 104. Nourse and Faulkner made 106 of the 128 runs from the bat in South Africa's first innings, Arnold taking 4 of the last 6 wickets for one run—his analysis being 5 for 37. In South Africa's second innings P. W. Sherwell scored 115.

In the second match South Africa led by 34 runs on the first innings, but England won by 53 runs, Fry's 54 and Blythe's bowling deciding the issue. Blythe bowled himself almost to a standstill, taking 15 wickets for 99 runs. In England's first innings Faulkner took 6 wickets for 17 runs. The third match was spoilt by rain when South Africa needed 97 runs to win with 5 wickets in hand. Blythe again bowled well, and C. B. Fry made 129 for England. For South Africa Vogler and Schwarz bowled well and S. J. Snooke made 63.

Rain spoilt the whole series of matches.

C. B. Fry scored 221 runs for England—average 44.20—and A. D. Nourse 127 for South Africa—average 31.75.

England's most successful bowler was Blythe, with 26 wickets for 10.38 each, and A. E. Vogler took most wickets for South Africa. In a dryer season the South African batsmen would have shown to greater advantage.

THE ENGLISH TOUR IN SOUTH AFRICA OF 1909-10

Captain—H. D. G. LEVESON-GOWER

5 MATCHES

England won 2 and South Africa won 3

South Africa succeeded in winning the rubber during this tour. The first match ended in a narrow victory for South Africa by 19 runs. Faulkner scored 78 and 123 and every one of the twenty English wickets fell to him and Vogler. With 89 and 35 Hobbs was top scorer for England, putting up 147 for the first wicket with Rhodes in the first innings. Simpson-Hayward bowled well in South Africa's first innings.

South Africa won the second match by the larger margin of 95 runs. Nourse (69) White (118) decided the issue by adding 143 for the fourth wicket in the second innings of South Africa. Faulkner and Vogler again bowled well. Hobbs was again the best English batsman, and Simpson-Hayward the most successful bowler. England won the third match by 3 wickets, thanks to Hobbs (93 not out) and Denton (104). Buckenham and Simpson-Hayward bowled with success for England, as did Faulkner and Vogler for South Africa, taking 14 of the 17 wickets which fell. South Africa won the rubber in winning the fourth match by 4 wickets. They owed their win to Faulkner's batting in the second innings. England started disastrously in each innings, Hobbs, Rhodes, and Denton only scoring 16 runs between them. Thompson and Vogler took 7 wickets for their respective sides.

England won the last match in overwhelming fashion by 9 wickets. Hobbs and Rhodes paved the way by scoring 221 for the first wicket, Hobbs scoring 187. Blythe bowled with marked success, taking in all 10 wickets for 104 runs. Faulkner made 99 in South Africa's second innings. For once Vogler was quite ineffective.

Hobbs easily headed the English batting with 539 runs —a record total for England—and an average 67.37. Simpson-Hayward and Thompson each took 23 wickets—the former's underhand bowling being most effective.

For South Africa G. A. Faulkner scored 545 (average 60.55) and took 29 wickets—average 21.89. A. E. Vogler was the most successful bowler, taking 36 wickets —a record for a South African bowler—for 21.75 runs each.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN TOUR IN ENGLAND OF 1912

CAPTAIN—F. MITCHELL

3 MATCHES

England won all three games

England won all three matches during the 1912 tour, the bowling of S. F. Barnes being the deciding factor, he taking 34 of the 58 wickets which fell to the bowlers.

England won the first match easily by an innings and 62 runs. Foster (5 for 16) and Barnes (5 for 25) bowling unchanged, dismissed South Africa for 58 in their first innings. For England Spooner scored 119 and Woolley 73. Pegler bowled well for South Africa, taking 7 wickets for 65 runs, being almost unplayable at the end of England's innings. England won the second match in the easiest fashion by 174 runs. Hobbs and Spooner batted well for England, and Tancred and Taylor for South Africa. Barnes took 10 wickets for 11½ runs each. The third match provided England with another easy victory, this time by 10 wickets. Hobbs was top scorer for England with 68 and Nourse made 42 for South Africa. Barnes and Woolley divided the wickets in South Africa's first innings and in the second Barnes took 8 wickets for 29 runs—his total for the match being 13 for 57.

R. H. Spooner was England's best batsman with 248 runs and an average of 62. Barnes took 34 wickets for 8.29 runs each. For South Africa only A. D. Nourse succeeded in scoring 100 runs—average 16.66. S. J. Pegler took the most wickets, 15.

THE ENGLISH TOUR IN SOUTH AFRICA OF 1913-14

CAPTAIN—HON. L. H. TENNYSON

5 MATCHES

England won 4 and 1 was drawn

A very powerful English team won four out of five matches in 1913-14. They ran up three totals of over 400, and the bowling of Barnes again proved decisive—he taking 49 of the 99 wickets which fell to the bowlers, a total unapproached in any series of test matches, although missing the last match.

England won the first match by an innings and 157 runs, scoring 450. Hobbs made 82 and Douglas 119. For South Africa Taylor made 109 out of 182 in the first innings. Barnes took 10 wickets for 105 runs.

England won the second match by an innings and 12 runs, scoring 403. Rhodes made 152 and Mead 102—adding 152 for the third wicket. Barnes broke all records by taking 17 wickets for 159 runs—8 for 56 and 9 for 103. South Africa made a better fight in the third match, England only winning by 91 runs. They made 304 runs—a record for the fourth innings in these matches—Taylor and Zulch scoring 153 for the first wicket. Hobbs, Mead and Douglas all batted well for England.

In the fourth match South Africa more than held their own, England requiring 159 runs to win with only 5 wickets to fall. Barnes took 14 wickets for 144 runs. Taylor made 93 for South Africa and Hobbs 97 for England. C. P. Carter (6 for 50) bowled with success in England's first innings.

Although without Barnes, England won the fifth match easily by 10 wickets, scoring 411. South Africa collapsed in the first innings before Douglas and Woolley, Hands scoring 83. Mead made 117, and Taylor and Zulch scored 121 for the first wicket in South Africa's second innings. Booth bowled well in this innings.

Hobbs, Mead and Rhodes all had averages of over forty for England. Barnes took 49 wickets for 10.93 runs each—more than one quarter of his overs were maidens.

H. W. Taylor scored 508 runs in ten completed innings for South Africa, and the largest number of wickets fell to J. M. Blanckenberg for 22.52 runs apiece.

THE ENGLISH TOUR IN SOUTH AFRICA OF 1922-23

Captain—F. T. MANN

5 MATCHES

England won 2, South Africa won 1 and 2 were drawn

England won the rubber of this tour by two matches to one, after an exceedingly close struggle.

South Africa won the first match by 168 runs after being 34 runs behind on the first innings. South Africa's 420 was the highest score against England in these matches, and H. W. Taylor's 176 was the highest individual score for South Africa. Kennedy, Jupp and Nupen bowled well.

The second match ended in a narrow win for England by one wicket. Catterall and Taylor put up a record partnership of 155 for the second wicket for South Africa. Hall bowled well in each innings. Dropped catches played a great part in South Africa's defeat.

The third match was spoilt by rain, only 21 wickets falling. For England, Mead scored 181, and Kennedy bowled well. At the close England led by 71 runs with 9 wickets in hand. Both the fifth and sixth wicket records were broken in England's innings. The fourth match ended in an even draw. After England had declared with 6 wickets down, South Africa made 247 for 4 wickets. Sandham and Russell put up 150 for the first wicket in the second innings and Woolley scored 115. For South Africa, Taylor, whose batting was very consistent, scored 101.

The fifth match on the new ground at Durban was played to a finish, England winning by 109 runs. Russell, although ill, scored two centuries for England—140 and 111. The match lasted six days. H. W. Taylor made 102 in South Africa's second innings, and was ninth out, making a great effort. Russell and Gilligan came within two runs of equalling the record stand for the last wicket.

Russell headed the English batting averages with 436 runs—average 62.28; Kennedy taking 31 wickets for 19.32 runs each.

For South Africa, H. W. Taylor was easily the leading batsman. Scoring 582 runs—a record for one series—with an average of 64.66, he scored 21 and 176, 9 and 68, 91, 11 and 101, and 3 and 102. He was well supported by R. H. Catterall and A. D. Nourse. In bowling A. E. Hall and J. M. Blanckenberg did best, taking 27 and 25 wickets respectively.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN TOUR IN ENGLAND OF 1924

CAPTAIN:—H. W. TAYLOR

5 MATCHES

England won 3 and 2 were drawn

England won the rubber of 1924 in overwhelming fashion, winning the three matches finished by large margins. The South Africans' weak bowling was severely punished, England topping 400 on three occasions and scoring 396 on the other.

The first match England won by an innings and 18 runs, South Africa losing the match when they collapsed on a good wicket for 30 runs (11 being extras) to the bowling of Tate and Gilligan. Tate took 4 wickets for 12 runs, and Gilligan 6 for 7, 4 of his 6 overs and 3 balls being maidens. The innings of 12½ overs occupying 45 minutes, equalled the lowest score by South Africa at Port Elizabeth in 1896. Though they scored 390—their highest total in England in the second innings—they were easily beaten. For England, Hobbs, Sutcliffe, Woolley and Hendren batted steadily, and in the second innings R. H. Catterall scored a brilliant 120 for South Africa.

In the second match England won by the largest margin in a test match, an innings and 18 runs, after declaring with two wickets down. England's total of 531 for 2 wickets is the largest ever compiled in a test match for that number of wickets. Never previously had the three leading batsmen scored centuries, and Hobbs and Sutcliffe put up a new record for the first wicket (268), beating that set up by Rhodes and Hobbs at Cape Town, in 1910. Hobbs' 211 was the highest score made by a batsman in a test match in England. Catterall made another 120 for South Africa. Sutcliffe (122) and Woolley (134 not out) made centuries for England. Never has international bowling been scored off so freely.

England secured the rubber, winning the third match by nine wickets. Tate bowled well, but had it not been for rash running between the wickets South Africa would have made a better fight. Hendren scored 132.

The fourth match was ruined by rain, no play being possible after the first day, during which South Africa scored 116 for four wickets. England played an experimental side in view of the Australian tour. The fifth match was also spoilt by rain, but England, although having the worst of the wicket, led by 79 runs with two wickets in hand. Catterall batted well for 95 and Hendren scored 142.

England's batting averages were extraordinary, four men averaging over fifty—Hendren 398 runs (av. 132.66), Woolley 249 (av. 83.00), Sutcliffe 303 (av. 75.75), and Hobbs 355 (av. 71.00). Tate was the best bowler, with 27 wickets for 15.70 runs each.

R. H. Catterall scored 471 runs at an average of 67.28, but the best bowling average was Carter's 33.00 for 4 wickets. Pegler took most wickets—9—average 55.55. The South African fielding left much to be desired.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN TOUR IN AUSTRALIA OF 1910-11

CAPTAIN :—P. W. SHERWELL

5 MATCHES

Australia won 4 and South Africa won 1

In 1910-11 Australia won four of the five matches played fairly easily. The South African bowling was weak. The "googlie" being ineffective on Australian wickets, and Vogler entirely failed to find his form. The scoring ruled high, three totals of over 500 being registered.

Australia won the first match easily by an innings and 114 runs. Australia scored 528; Bardsley 132 and Hill 191; and South Africa failed badly on a wet wicket. Cotter and Schwarz bowled with success.

The second match ended in a remarkable victory for Australia by 89 runs. After scoring 506 in the first innings South Africa collapsed for 80 against Whitty (6 for 17) and Cotter (4 for 47) on a good wicket. Trumper scored 159 and Faulkner 204.

The third match produced the second largest aggregate (1646) ever scored in a test match. After a stubborn fight South Africa won by 38 runs. Zulch (105), Snooke (103), and Faulkner (115) made centuries for South Africa, and Trumper batted magnificently for 214 not out.

In the fourth match Australia inflicted on South Africa the heaviest Test Match defeat on record—530 runs. The task set South Africa to win—702—is also a record for a Test Match. Bardsley, Hill(100) and Armstrong (132) batted well for Australia. Nourse (92 not out) and Faulkner (80) did best for South Africa. Hordern, the "googlie" bowler, bowled well in his first match.

The fifth match ended in a seven wickets victory for Australia. Macartney scored 137 for Australia and Zulch 150 for South Africa. Schwarz bowled well in Australia's first innings, and Whitty in South Africa's second. V. T. Trumper scored 661 runs for Australia, with an average of 94.42, and Bardsley also averaged over 60. Whitty took 37 wickets at an average of 17.08 each.

Faulkner scored 732 runs for South Africa (average 73.20), his scores being 62 and 43, 20 and 48, 56 and 115, 20 and 80, and 52 and 92.

The most successful South African bowler was R. O. Schwarz, who took 25 wickets (average 26.04).

CAPTAINS :—AUSTRALIA :—S. E. GREGORY
SOUTH AFRICA :—F. MITCHELL

3 MATCHES

Australia won 2 matches and 1 was drawn

During the triangular tournament of 1912, Australia and South Africa met three times, Australia winning twice and one match being drawn.

The first match was won by Australia by an innings and 88 runs. Kelleway scored 114 and Bardsley 121 ; for South Africa, Faulkner scored 122 not out. T. J. Matthews did the " hat-trick " for Australia in each innings and curiously took no other wickets.

The second match was won by Australia by 10 wickets. Their victory would have been greater if their fielding had been better. Kellaway scored 102 and Bardsley 164. Taylor was top-scorer for South Africa with 93. Pegler, Whitty and Matthews all bowled with success.

The third match was ruined by rain, only an innings a side being completed.

W. Bardsley had the remarkable average of 113.66, scoring 341 runs ; C. Kellaway averaged 84.33 for 253 runs. Matthews (average 10.92) and Whitty (average 18.69) each took 13 wickets. For South Africa, G. A. Faulkner made most runs (148) with the best average (37.00). S. J. Pegler was the most successful bowler with 14 wickets for 18.13 runs each.

THE AUSTRALIAN TOUR IN SOUTH AFRICA OF 1921-22

CAPTAIN :—H. L. COLLINS

3 MATCHES

Australia won 1 and 2 were drawn

Of the three matches played in 1920-1 Australia, won the only match finished.

Australia had all the better of the first match, South Africa being 207 runs behind at the close with only three wickets to fall. Macartney made 117 for Australia and Zulch 80 for South Africa ; both Gregory and Blanckenberg bowled well.

The second match, which produced 1,172 runs for 28 wickets, resulted in an even draw. Both sides compiled one score of over 400, and at the end Australia were 258 runs behind with all their wickets in hand. H. L. Collins (203) and J. M. Gregory (119) made centuries for Australia. Frank scored 152 and Nourse 111 for South Africa.

The Australians won the third match easily by 10 wickets, chiefly owing to Ryder, who made 142, and Macartney, who took 5 wickets for 44 runs in South Africa's second innings. Ryder had the good average of 111.33, scoring 334 runs, and Collins and Macartney both averaged over 50. Mailey (average 32.53) and Gregory (average 18.93) took 13 and 15 wickets respectively. A. D. Nourse scored 280 runs with an average of 56 for South Africa, and Carter took most wickets (16) for 20.56 runs each.
